New Mexico Is Not a "Two County" District by a Long Sight.

The Mining Reporter, published at Denver, in a recent issue says that New Mexico can not now be rightfully termed a two or three-county mining territory, for Santa Fe. San Miguel, Lincoin, Otero, Rio Arriba, Taos, Colfax, Bernalillo and Luna countles are sharing the activity in the influx of investors to the three principal producing countless of the principal producing counties of the territory, viz: Grant, Socorre and Sierra. In emphasis of this statement the Mining Reporter cites the follow-the Mining Reporter cites the londwing:

The Monte Carlo and Copper Queen properties in the Orogrande section of Otero county are prosecuting extensive developments, whereby minable ore bodies are being exposed; the coal and metal mining camps of Madrid, Cerrillos. San Pedro and Gelden in Santa Fe country are giving employment to several hundred men, while the Santa Fe Gold and Copper Mining company, which is producing Mining company, which is producing at the rate of 2,000,000 pounds of copper annually, is to increase its fif copper annually, is to increase its firty-ton matting plant to 150 tens capacity, and the old mines of the Cerrillos camp, which were abandoned some twenty years ago on account of the zinc contents of the ore, are now being successfully reworked; the old Bromide camp, seven miles to the west of Tres Piedras, in Taos county,

Good Progress. In Colfax county there is a notice-In Colfax county there is a noticeable increase in coal mining operations, while the placer and quartz mining operations in various portions of Rio Arriba county were a feature of the news items for the past two

Grant county made its usual pro-Grant county made its usual progress during July as is shown by the continuous operation of the Comanche Mining and Smelting company's reduction works at Silver City, increased production in the Burro mountain section, the employment of upwards of 1,300 men in the Hanover, Flerro, Santa Rita and Copper Flai camps, and the daily production of about 1,000 tons of iron ore for the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

The month's development in the Mogolion camps of Socorro county were noteworthy on account of the disclosing of important ore bodies at greater depths in the older mines, and important stries in outlying areas. There was a considerable increase of zinc production from the Kelley zinc camp, but this production is to be greatly increased now that the Tri-Bullion Smelting and Refining company is to erect a large smelter at Canon City, Colorado, which will afford a nearer market which will a will afford a nearer market a most valuable mine. Mr. Gregory has a shaft down to a depth of about forty-five feet from which he has taken out twenty tons of ore. He was in Silver City last week making arrangements to have it treated at the smelter of the Comanche Mining and Smelting company. The mine is located just about 1,000 feet east of the Pinos Altos road.

Quartz mining operations in the Hillsboro camp of Sierra county, showed a marked improvement over the preceding months of the year; while the old camp's rejuvenation may appear slow, it is on a substan-tial basis.

The Top Mining company, which was organized in Silver City last week, has received a large shipment of machinery, which was at once transported to the property, in the Mogolion district. The machinery consists of a large gasoline engine, hoists, steam drills, etc., to be used in sinking the shaft several hundred feet. This company was only recently organized with J. E. Coffey, president; D. R. Bronell, secretary, and J. W. Carter, treasurer, Quite a number of Silver City business men have taken blocks of stock in the company and Carter, treasurer. Quite a number of Silver City business men have taken blocks of stock in the company and it is considered by mining men to be one of the best mining investments to be had in that section. The Top mine is joined on one side by the famous Last Chance mine and on the other by the Helen, two of the richest and biggest producers in the southern part of New Mexico.

The Leopold-Tyrone Copper company has been organized by Frank L. Krieder of Goldfield. Nev., to operate in the Burro mountains. Mr. Krieder has purchased a group of four claims located near the Copper Guif property. A contract has been let to sink the shaft 250 feet or over, and the shaft is now down 100 feet.

MAN WHO CUT BIG

Roswell, N. M., August 17.—John F. McMurray, a lawyer from South McAlester, I. T., who bought several hundred acres of land six or seven miles each of Roswell last year, has laid claim to a portion of the water that feeds the northern canal, owned by farmers in the Hagerman district and has opened a ditch and is taking the water. He says he is entitled to a flow 20 feet wide and one foot deep, under an appropriation made 20 years ago. The Hagerman ditch owners have entered suit against him and one of the stubbornest legal fights that has been known in the Pecos valley seems imminent.

Mogollon and Pinos Altos Districts.

Extensive development continues to be the rule in the Mogollon and Pinos Altos mining districts of New Altos Mining Mini Mexico.

C. W. Gregory has made a very rich strike in the Pinos Altos district that is to add, it seems, to the fame of that old district. He has struck ore at a depth of twenty-five feet that carried $14.76 gold, 80 ounces of silver and considerable lead. It is free milling ore and an assay shows a total value of a little over $490 per ton and workings so far indicate and publisher of the Otsego Journal, Gilbertsville, N.
